Located just 30 minutes south of downtown Denver and 15 minutes from the Denver Technological Center, Castle Pines Village is a world-class country club community built to harmonize with its 2,800-acre natural setting. Situated on ample lots shaded by mature trees and visited by wandering wildlife, its beautiful homes offer breathtaking panoramic mountain views. In addition to heavily wooded areas, Castle Pines Village boasts magnificent rock outcroppings and rolling hills. At an elevation of 6,200 feet with postcard-worthy vistas in every direction, Castle Pines Village is truly a high-style, high-country community. Residents enjoy many outdoor activities, including strolling through forests of aspen, spruce, and Ponderosa pine via an extensive network of trails; the Village Lake Fitness Center and swimming and tennis at the Canyon Club—both of which all residents become automatic members.

The community also showcases two private Jack Nicklaus-designed championship golf courses: The Country Club at Castle Pines, and the Golf Club which hosts the PGA Tour event, “The International.” Memberships are available at the Country Club at Castle Pines, with its spectacular clubhouse designed in the style of an English lodge.

The community offers the feeling of resort living within 15 minutes of major employment centers. School-age residents benefit from the award-winning Douglas County School District, whose low student-teacher ratios and high academic standards rank it among the best in the nation. Amenities within the community include boutique shopping, eateries, fitness center, gourmet market and office space at pedestrian-friendly The Village at Castle Pines; and a plethora more in the city of Castle Rock; the Castle Rock Factory Outlet; and 15 minutes north at the upscale Park Meadows Mall and neighboring retail and business venues.
